Scoring the USBR Target #1

Revised
5/19/09

Easy Shots To Score

No need to use a scoring gauge on these shots. None of them are close to the edge of the ring of next higher value.

Targets are twice normal size for clarity

IREM Scoring Rules

1. It is recommended that everyone download this two page scoring graphic and print it out for reference.

2. Each person who scores targets must understand correct scoring with the scoring gauge. The gauge should be held by the handle when being pushed into the shot hole. The value of a shot should be determined before the scoring gauge is removed. If it is difficult to determine the value of a shot: (Old shooter - weak eyes) Use a magnifying glass.

3. You may score your own targets or have another person score them. They should be checked for mistakes. When you post your scores on RFC: At the end of your report indicate "Self Scored", or "Scored by: _____".

4. NEW shooters who are not sure of how to score, or do not yet have a scoring gauge, they may mail target(s) to their team captain, or to Joe Haller for scoring: Targets should be mailed at least 10 days before the end of the month.

Scoring 10s and 10xs using the scoring gauge

If you see any green of the 10-ring peeking out from under the edge of the gauge, it is not a 10x.

The gauge covers all of the green ten ring on these these 3 targets. They all score a 10-x.

Scoring the USBR Target #2

Revised
4/8/11

These are close shots

These shots are close to a scoring ring. Which ones touch the ring of higher value? You cannot be sure until you plug the shot with a scoring gauge. The holes could measure anywhere from .214" to .219", depending on bullet shape, lubricant, paper type and moisture in the paper. The .22 caliber scoring gauge measures .224". Shots that may look "out" could be "in".

Here is the same target, with a scoring gauge placed in each of the shot holes.

Use the gauge on these shots

If the flange of the gauge touches a ring of higher value, you score the higher value. A magnifying glass held over the gauge will sometimes help.

Hold the gauge by its top and press it straight down into the shot hole. Do not press too hard or the flange will go through the shot hole.
